

*Summary of Lower Platte River Ice Report
February 23, 2009 through February 27, 2009*

Platte River

Highway 77 Platte River Bridge Location reports that the river is free flowing. There are residual ice chunks on the sand bars and in the boat ramps from the break up a couple of weeks ago.

Highway 92 Bridge reports that all of the ice is gone off of the river. A small amount remains on the sandbars and a minor amount along the banks.

Highway 50 at Louisville reported that there was no ice visible on the river at this point.